

In this section ECOTROS has placed examples of user-friendly summaries created by occupational therapy students who attended the 2009 Intensive Programme. However there are limitations with such summaries and the topic of 'user friendly summaries' needs far more development. Ideas for a future related ECOTROS project are ready once a lead person is found. This project would investigate the use of journal clubs for the development of such summaries. ECOTROS does invite comments as to how we move forward with this. There will be discussion in a workshop on Knowledge Translation at the ENOTHE conference in October 2009.
