

3rd INTERNATIONAL LIQUID BIOPSY SYMPOSIUM

The 3rd International Liquid Biopsy Symposium will cover new technical developments and the latest advances in Liquid Biopsies. It will focus on how these might be translated to the clinic, how they can help better understand the underlying biology of malignant diseases, and how they can enhance the management of cancer patients in clinical routine.

We invite you to join internationally recognized experts in the field of Liquid Biopsy. This meeting is a unique opportunity to exchange ideas, discuss your latest research, and start collaborations with other clinicians, basic scientists, and translational researchers.

The following topics will be covered:

- Early detection and screening
- Noninvasive genotyping and characterization of clonal heterogeneity
- Promoting Liquid Biopsies from bench to bedside
- Emerging Liquid Biopsy technologies and other liquids
- Noninvasive monitoring and resistance detection
- Circulating tumor cells (CTC) and CTC cultures
- Liquid Biopsy in Hematology

Due to the coronavirus pandemic, the Liquid Biopsy Symposium 2020 will be held as a virtual meeting facilitating online live presentations and discussions. We also encourage young scientists to submit their latest research as scientific abstracts. If selected, posters will be uploaded to our online platform and viewed by the meeting attendees.
